

Well Minds

Packed with information advice and useful contacts helping you, your family, friends and community to manage good mental health and wellbeing in Suffolk.

This booklet has been amended and reproduced by the Public Health and Communities Team at Suffolk County Council in Partnership with the Suffolk Voluntary and Statutory Partnership (VASP) with kind permission by the Communities and Leisure Team at East Suffolk Council and the East Suffolk Community Partnership Board.

We have used material from publications and websites produced by a wide range of partners from the public and voluntary, community, faith and social enterprise sectors (VCFSE).

All information is current at time of publication (September 2025) but if you do find a link or number isn't working, please contact publicmentalhealth@suffolk.gov.uk

This booklet can be downloaded at www.healthysuffolk.org.uk where an accessible word version is also available.

We are able to produce this booklet in different languages and in digital or easy read formats, upon request.

Section 1: Five ways to wellbeing

All sorts of things can affect how we feel so it can be helpful to think about being well as something we do rather than something we are. The Five Ways to Wellbeing campaign suggests five activities we can do that help us be well.

Talking to other people can help us feel good, less lonely, and more connected. You can talk to family, friends, people at work or school, or even neighbours. Here are some easy ways to connect

- Ask someone how their weekend was. Listen to what they say and say something back like, “Sounds like you had fun at the park!”
- Take five minutes to find out how a friend or co-worker is doing
- If you need help meeting people, visit infolink.suffolk.gov.uk or call your GP surgery, to find local groups

walks

Being active can help us stay mentally well. You don't have to run or play sport. Do something else you enjoy – like dancing, gentle yoga, or even stretching exercises while sitting down. Ideas for being more active include:

- Take the stairs rather than the lift, get off the bus one stop earlier or park your car further away
- Dance whilst you are doing the cleaning or making the dinner.
- Go for a walk. Feel Good Suffolk, in partnership with Ramblers UK are offering free, organised group walks across Suffolk. Scan the QR code or visit www.feelgoodsuffolk.co.uk/be-active/wellbeing-walks

TAKE NOTICE

When you enjoy small moments, like walking barefoot on grass, or eating a lovely meal you can feel happier. Paying attention, or taking notice of that moment can help you see what matters. Some easy ways to enjoy the moment include:

- Spend some time in nature – the local park or woods. Notice the sights, sounds, and smells around you.
- Listen to music – let yourself get lost in the rhythm or lyrics.
- Watch the sky – spend a few moments looking at the clouds, stars, or sunset.

LEARN

local clubs and hobbies

Feeling like you are learning and developing can improve how you feel about yourself. Learning new things will make you more confident, as well as being fun. Ideas about how to learn new things include:
Sign up for a course – something you have always wanted to do!

Read a book, do a puzzle, visit a museum. Follow a new recipe or get your kids to teach you something they are good at. There are also lots of great things to do in Suffolk! Visit the Suffolk InfoLink directory to discover new clubs or hobbies if you are stuck for ideas – scan the QR code or visit www.infolink.suffolk.gov.uk

volunteer opportunities
in Suffolk

Giving is about thinking of others as well as yourself and doing something kind. For example, doing something nice for a friend or a stranger. It helps you feel part of your community and can lead to new friendships. Ideas about how to give include:

- Help out – volunteer or join a local group. There are lots of places to volunteer and for ideas visit volunteersuffolk.org.uk/get-involved/
- Be kind – make a cup of tea for someone, like a neighbour.
- Say thanks – a smile and a thank-you can brighten someone's day

Section 2: Sleep

Sleep is another important activity that impacts our wellbeing!

There are two main types of sleep: deep sleep and dream sleep:

- Deep sleep helps your body rest, heal, and grow. It happens more in the first half of the night.
- Dream sleep (often called Rapid Eye Movement (REM) sleep because your eyes move rapidly when you are dreaming) helps your mind deal with emotions. It happens more in the second half of the night.

If you go to bed too late, you miss deep sleep and may feel tired. If you wake up too early, you miss dream sleep and may feel stressed.

Adults need 7–9
hours of good quality sleep
each night.

10 Ways to Better Sleep –

Tips for improved sleep quality and quantity

1. Step outside within 30 to 60 minutes of waking up to enjoy the sunlight. Repeat in the late afternoon, just before dusk.
2. Every day, including weekends, try to wake up at the same time and go to bed as soon as you feel tired.
3. Stopping smoking will improve your sleep because nicotine stimulates your brain. Without it, you are more likely to fall asleep quicker and stay asleep longer. Also, caffeine and alcohol affect your sleep so cutting down on those will help.
4. Move more than you do now. Regular activity helps you sleep better. It helps you fall asleep faster and helps you stay asleep through the night.
5. Try not to look at bright screens before bed, like your phone. The bright light can trick your brain into thinking it's still daytime. This makes it harder to fall asleep.
6. Eat more fibre. You can get fibre from vegetables, fruit, whole grains, beans, and lentils. Fibre helps your body to work well. This can help you sleep better.
7. Try listening to white noise to help you fall asleep. White noise is a steady sound, like a fan or soft rain. It can help your brain relax. There are lots of free apps that play white noise.
8. Try relaxation exercises. Like deep breathing. Breathe in slowly through your nose, hold for a few seconds, then breathe out through your mouth. Repeat a few times to calm your body.
9. Try to keep stress and anxiety in check (see Five Ways to Wellbeing).
10. Taking a warm shower before bed can help you relax. It tells your body it's time to sleep.

Section 3: Suffolk Mind

Emotional needs and resources

Suffolk Mind use an 'organising idea' to help you stay well. We all have physical and emotional needs and a set of skills and resources that we're born with to meet those needs. We call this the Emotional Needs and Resources approach.

We have 12 physical and emotional needs, which are:

- Food and Drink
- Sleep
- Movement
- Security
- Control
- Attention
- Status
- Community
- Privacy
- Emotional Connection
- Achievement
- Meaning and Purpose

For example, someone might use their skills with computers to show a neighbour how to set up an email account. This could meet their need for meaning and purpose, because they feel useful and able to help someone else.

When our needs are met through everyday actions and relationships, we're more likely to feel content and able to cope with challenges.

This approach forms the basis of all Suffolk Mind resources and services as well as their 'Mental Health Toolkit'.

Are you meeting each of your needs?

Section 4: If you or someone you know is struggling with their mental health

Remember...

In the UK over 8 million people experience anxiety every day. There are lots of things happening locally and globally that could impact your mental wellbeing. It's OK not to be OK and to seek support and advice.

If you are experiencing a mental health crisis...

Call NHS 111 option 2. This is a 24-hour helpline for people who need urgent mental health support. If you call, you'll speak to a professional in your local NHS mental health service. They can discuss your current mental health needs and provide access to further support if needed. Calls are free.

You can talk to Samaritans on 116 123 about anything that is upsetting you 24/7, 365 days a year.

If someone is in immediate danger phone 999.

Text 'SHOUT' to 85258, free from all major UK mobile networks.

Section 7: Suicide Prevention

Suicide can affect anyone. The impact of suicide is devastating and wide-reaching. For those living with suicidal thoughts, feeling inner turmoil and pain, or feeling trapped can mean that taking their own life becomes an option.

Losing a loved one to suicide is hugely traumatic with common feelings being stigma, shame and 'could I have done something to change the outcome'?

It may feel hard to ask someone directly if they are thinking of taking their own life but enabling that person to talk about how they are feeling may make all the difference.

National Suicide Prevention Helpline UK

The National Suicide Prevention Helpline UK offers a supportive listening service to anyone with thoughts of suicide. Call the National Suicide Prevention Helpline UK on 0800 689 5652 (6pm to midnight every day).
