Parish Code: E04009376

Area Summary

Brandeston is a small village that sits to the south-west of Framlingham in Suffolk Coastal. The area is best known for Brandeston Hall Prep School which feeds into Framlingham College. The school boasts a long list of notable alumni, more recently the Suffolk-born singer Ed Sheeran.

The village itself retains a relatively new village hall that holds a good number local groups. There is also an adjoining recreational field that supports the local community.

The parish retains a parish church that bears the memory of its 17th Century Vicar who, after 50 years of service, was tried and wrongly hanged for witchcraft. His figure can be seen on the village sign, hanging from the gallows.

The village pub has changed hands multiple times in recent years and has been with the current proprietors since 2015.
