

Bruisyard

Parish Code: E04009380

Area Summary

Bruisyard is a small village and civil parish in Suffolk Coastal that sits just off the A1120 to the west of Yoxford.

The area's population is largely split between two adjacent settlements of Bruisyard Street and Bruisyard itself.

The River Alde runs along the south of the parish and you will find the Bruisyard Woods in the north.

The village has a few facilities for local people, including a village hall that was built in 2009/10. The village hall is on the same plot as the village green and play park.

The parish church in Bruisyard is notable for its grade1 listing and round tower.

The area has a good number of small businesses, holiday lets and farms.
