

Chillesford

Parish Code: E04009383

Area Summary

Chillesford is a small village and civil parish in Suffolk Coastal that lies five miles south-west of Aldeburgh and six miles south of Saxmundham. Its nearest neighbour is the small town of Orford, whose visitors will pass through Chillesford along the Orford Road.

The majority of the village sits either side of the main road on the way to Orford. The parish church sits atop a hill and is the area's most noticeable landmark, which is partly down to the tower's red-ish colour that comes from local clay.

The village has some local businesses with a farm that provides horse stables and storage, which is down the road from a relatively new restaurant venture.

Chillesford Lodge, a former Victorian model farm and part of the Sudbourne Hall Estate, can be found in the south of the parish. The buildings have recently been converted for residential use.
