

Farnham with Stratford St Andrew

Parish Code: E04009404 & E04009457

Area Summary

Farnham and Stratford St Andrew are two villages that sit on the A12 to the south of Saxmundham in Suffolk Coastal. The two settlements are very much linked, only physically separated by the River Alde.

Many people will have passed through the area and will be familiar each place. In Farnham you will pass through a tight corner as you enter the village, while Stratford St Andrew has a petrol station on the main road.

Residents have access to the Riverside Centre which is a substantial community building in Stratford. Adjacent to this is a playing field and play park.

Stratford's parish church has been sold off and converted to a private residence but Farnham retains its parish church.

Residents are currently campaigning for an A12 bypass with two other villages in the area.
