

Kettlebaston

Parish Code: E04009102

Area Summary

Kettlebaston is small village and civil parish in Babergh that sits 9miles south-west of Stowmarket and around 10 miles north-east of Sudbury. Hadleigh is just 7 miles south-east of Kettlebaston.

The parish is one of the smallest in the district with only 28 households.

The parish church of St Mary sits in the centre of the village which attracts some Anglo-Catholic pilgrims due to its history of being the 'liturgically highest' Anglican church in Suffolk.

The village hall, previously the village Schoolhouse, is owned by the church and sits in St Mary's grounds. Just outside of the parish boundary is a popular fishing lake.

The popular village of Lavenham is less than 5 miles to the west of Kettlebaston.
