

Kettleburgh

Parish Code: E04009423

Area Summary

Kettleburgh is a small and rural village to the south-west of Framlingham in Suffolk Coastal.

The village's housing and community assets are centred around the main street in the very south of the parish. The village retains a pub which is unusual (if not unheard of) for a parish of this size.

The village benefits from both a village hall and a newly developed village green. Both form the epicentre for the village and its activities.

The parish church sits at the end of a road in the village but not completely away from the action.

Kettleburgh is rural but not completely isolated as it is located just a couple of miles from Framlingham and around 4 miles from Wickham Market.
