

Redlingfield

Parish Code: E04009242

Area Summary

Redlingfield is a small village and parish in the north of Mid Suffolk, to the south-east of Eye.

The area has relatively few residents and sits in a rural part of the county.

The parish does still have an active church that sits at the centre of the village.

Redlingfield has recently benefitted from the purchase and construction of the Doorstep Green which provides opportunities for younger people to play and local events to be held. As recently as August 2016 the parish has acquired an adjacent piece of land to further extended the green space available to the community.

Like many others in the area the parish of Redlingfield has a strong connection with aviation in the Second World War, with a roadside memorial to a significant plane crash in 1943.
